Austin E. “Dutch” Knowlton was the owner and chairman of the Knowlton Construction Company, an organization started in Bellefontaine, Ohio, in 1937. His company was responsible for over 600 major construction projects throughout Ohio and the Midwest, including school buildings, hospitals, libraries, and post offices. His company built five campus facilities at Ohio Wesleyan.

After graduating from Bellefontaine High School, he attended The Ohio State University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in architectural engineering. A prominent businessman and leading philanthropist, Mr. Knowlton became an avid sportsman with a 50-year interest in saddle-bred horses, was a member of the original founding partnership of the Cincinnati Bengals where he served as chairman, held a major ownership interest for many years in the Cincinnati Reds, and served as a trustee of the Little Brown
